

ALLESHA WILCOX

I am a parent who cares about our school community and the success and well-being of all students. I have worked as a social worker for many years and have experience working closely with individuals and families from a wide range of backgrounds, including marginalized and underserved communities. I am currently pursuing a master's degree in social work, and have also volunteered in my children's schools assisting teachers in their classrooms. These experiences have strengthened my appreciation for the important role schools play in the lives of students and families.

I am interested in serving on the School Community Council because I would like to be more involved in our school and contribute a parent's perspective to decisions that affect students and families. I value education and believe students do best when schools, families, teachers, and the community work together.

I would bring an open mind, a willingness to listen and learn, and a genuine desire to help identify and support programs and resources that benefit students. I look forward to learning more about our school's needs and working collaboratively with other council members and school leaders.
